Bond Issues of $2,299,000 Up For Vote

Bonds to the amount of $2,299,000 will be voted on by Sierra Madre voters during the next month. Other matters involving later expenditures will also be passed upon. The voters will have their hands full keeping track of the various propositions. Taking them in order they are as follows:

School election, March 28: Sierra Madre school district bonds, $100,000.

Pasadena High School district bonds, $2,119,000.

Proposition to form a junior college district co-incident with Pasadena high school district; election of one trustee.

Special city election, April 1: Municipal water bonds, $80,000.

Regular election, April 14: Election of two trustees, clerk and treasurer.

Announcement of the water bond proposal was the first to be put before the voters, although the last to be voted upon. The $80,000 issue is to take care of the improvements declared to be absolutely necessary by Willis S. Jones, expert who made a survey of the city's needs.

The Sierra Madre school district program is not yet fully formulated, and can only be stated in a general way. As indicated to the News by George S. Anderson, president, and Mrs. J. N. Hawks, clerk of the board, the capacity of the present plant will soon be exhausted. It is imperative to begin planning for expansion. Buildings of permanent type have been generally regarded as the next item to be undertaken by the district, as well as the acquisition of more land.

The ultimate ownership of the entire block bounded by Highland, Auburn, Grand View and Hermosa is the aim. Out of this bond issue it is expected to begin by purchasing the tract at the corner of Auburn and Grand View, and possibly some additional ground. Tentative plans have been considered for the erection of a fire proof building on a unit plan. This would include an auditorium to seat 800 or 1,000 persons. The $100,000 asked would be applied to the development of the program.

High School Bonds

Fortunately, the burden of the $2,119,000 high school district bonds will not fall on Sierra Madre alone. The city of Pasadena and other outlying elementary districts will share the load. Of this amount, $1,024,000 will be paid over to the Pasadena elementary districts for the school plants which are to be devoted to junior high school purposes. The remaining $1,095,000 will be devoted to new high school buildings. Out of this it is expected a junior high school plant will be erected somewhere in the east end of the city, probably in the neighborhood of Landa Park.

No portion of the proposed bond money will be used for the erection of junior college buildings. The junior college proposition is merely to establish a junior college district coincident with the high school district. The junior college work would then be carried on in connection with the present high school.

BETHANY SOCIETY TO HEAR ADDRESS BY MISS STANLEY

The Bethany Missionary society invites all the ladies of Sierra Madre at their next regular missionary meeting on Tuesday, March 11, at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. J. O. Smith, 609 W. Central, to hear Miss Arista Stanley speak. She is a returned missionary from Africa and will bring many very interesting curios with her.

Miss Mildred Elizabeth Emery of Hermosa avenue is spending the week in San Francisco, where she is being widely entertained by her many friends residing in the bay cities.

LUTHER GILSON VOTED TWICE FOR LINCOLN

Luther A. Gilson of 42 West Mira Monte Ave., informs the editor of the News that he voted for Abraham Lincoln in 1860 and 1864. This is the third name reported in reply to the inquiry of M. W. Copps as to whether or not he had any company in that class in Sierra Madre. The others were F. B. Seeley and John C. Coover. The latter, who voted also for Fremont in 1856, passed away last Sunday.

Foley To Be Attraction At Civic Dinner

James W. Foley, poet and philosopher of Pasadena, will be the major attraction at the March meeting of the Civic Association next Monday night. He will give a program of his poems and anecdotes for which many people pay a price equal to that charged for the dinner alone. This time the people will also enjoy a fish dinner served by the ladies of the Parent-Teacher Association. Those who partook of the dinner the same group of ladies served for the recent Boy Scout affair, will go with great expectations of a fine meal.

Mrs. George William Kreer who has recently become a resident of Sierra Madre will sing a group of songs. Miss Clara Sykes will play a piano solo, and other music will be furnished by a group of children: Olive Sedgman, flute; Virginia and David Roess, violins; and Beatrice White, piano.

At the open forum period it is expected there will be an illuminating discussion of the proposed water and school bond issues.

Pertinent Comment

It will require cool thinking and good counsel to keep somebody from rocking the boat during the next three weeks while the voters are pondering the merits of bond issues equal to the total assessed valuation of Sierra Madre property; $2,299,000 is a sum calculated to stagger the taxpayer who is just now digging up his last year's tax bill for the purpose of making a return for this year's taxation.

It is unfortunate that all these propositions come up at once. There is the danger of weighing one against the other instead of deciding the merits of each alone.

Lop Off $2,119,000

In the first place Sierra Madre voters want to get the idea fixed in their minds that they are not assuming the whole burden. Pasadena high school district, of which Sierra Madre is a relatively small part, proposes to issue $2,119,000 of the total. The vote of Sierra Madre will probably have little weight on that proposal but voters should express themselves anyway.

This leaves the $80,000 water bond proposal to be assumed by the city of Sierra Madre, and the $100,000 elementary school bond issue for the Sierra Madre district, which includes the Hastings ranch and the Villa section.

Two Things Clear

No good citizen would deny the truth of two axioms:
We must have a good water supply.

We must have good schools. Then the only thing remaining is to consider the merits of each proposal and vote conscientiously even though the burden may seem heavy.

The school program is not yet well formulated. The directors promise full information well before the date of the vote.

The water program is well defined. The city trustees hired the best available engineering expert,

Crowd Laughs at Vaudeville Till Worn Out

Laughing till they wept and then laughing till they had to quit from sheer weakness expressed the verdict of the audience which packed the club house last Friday night to witness the Eastern Star vaudeville show. Without question it was the greatest combination of fun and frolic ever perpetrated in Sierra Madre. Nothing less would have held the audience which put standing room at a premium.

Of course it was not all nonsense. Nothing prettier or sweeter was ever put on the local stage than the song and chorus numbers by Mrs. Frank Porter Miller and Mrs. Donald C. Ashmore, with a group of high school girls. Their splendid voices, the costuming and staging made a success which would have made many a professional musical act seem raucous and tawdry.

The cornet trio, Mrs. Homer W. Glidden, Miss Fothergill and Mr. Webster, presented a picture in keeping with the beautiful harmonies with which they opened the program.

Miss Mary McCune's dance number showed technical excellence and grace as well, in spite of the limited stage space.

The real scream, the stunt which nearly caused several deaths from laughter, was Harvey and Ike Steinberger dressed as little girls in rompers. As a piece of gigantic foolery it was delicious. The audience didn't care whether they sang or not—just looking was enough. They divided honors with the Revue of Baby Stars in which a number of supposedly staid business men paraded in a variety of female togs, from society gowns to beach equipment. Honors were widely distributed but Milt Steinberger as the ball room vamp and W. J. Stevenson as the bathing beauty seemed to have the edge on the rest for glory.

The play, "The Hero of Santa Marie," not only afforded plenty of laughs but reflected the careful directing of Mrs. H. E. Allen. It was a relief to have a play without any sort of a triangle. It was unusual in other ways—not a really attractive character in it, yet not repellant because the satire was so humorous.

To Mrs. Milton Steinberger as general manager everybody gave abundant praise. While not appearing to the audience, the program planning, the staging and even the details of makeup were due to her skill and active work.

Norval McGregor, who was to have given "Tam O'Shanter," was unexpectedly called to the studio late in the afternoon and was unable to get back to the club house until just after the program was finished, which was a disappointment to his many friends.

ARM BROKEN IN PRACTICE

"Bill" McClelland, son of Mrs. S. M. McClelland of 375 West Grand View, suffered a broken arm recently at the Hill Military academy, Portland, Ore., according to a telegram received this week by his mother. In preparation for a public exhibition, the company to which he was assigned was having a drill in scaling walls. After two successful trials, the company started over a third time. Something went wrong and Bill fell from the wall, breaking his left arm in two places. His many Sierra Madre friends will be glad to know that he is recovering nicely.

Mr. Willis S. Jones, and his report is the basis of the proposal.

If anybody has any substitute proposal to offer, let it come promptly so the voters can have time to analyze it before election time. Counter proposals which are offered at the eleventh hour can only be considered as attempts to defeat action without any constructive purpose in view.

Foothill Site for Monastery Is Purchased

Establishment of a large monastery of the order of the Passionist Fathers on the property commonly known as El Reposo or Mount Tara, is the purpose underlying the purchase of the major portion of the 100-acre property from R. B. Wilson. The deal is now in escrow and is expected to be completed soon.

Rev. Father Eugene Creagan, Provincial of the Western Province of the order, with headquarters at Chicago, is now in Sierra Madre arranging details of the enterprise. While full particulars have not been announced, it is understood the monastery will be the Pacific Coast headquarters of the order providing a retreat and training school for a large number of members.

Growth of Order

Interest in the religious community known as the Congregation of the Passion has been widespread since the assignment of two members as successors to Rev. Father Woodcutter in the administration of St. Rita's parish last August. These were Very Rev. Peter Hanley and Rev. Marcellus McCarthy.

The full name of the order is the Congregation of Discalced Clerks of the Most Holy Cross and Passion of Our Lord Jesus Christ. It was founded by Paul Francis Danel, later known as St. Paul of the Cross, who was ordained in 1727. The order has extensive establishments in the east and in Europe. The idea of the founder was to unite the solitary life of the Carthusians or Trappists with the active life of the Jesuits and Vincentians. They are counted among the mendicant orders. They have no endowments nor are they allowed to possess property except their houses and the land attached.

The Passionists are distinguished for their long and rigorous training and the austere program of their life. While they take up work in dioceses when requested as in the case of St. Rita's parish, they are essentially a missionary community and give missions, retreats and similar exercises.

FINAL RITES FOR WILSON MAYES

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon in Pasadena under the auspices of the American Legion Post No. 13, for Wilson R. Mayes, 33 years old, a disabled veteran of the World War. Mr. Mayes succumbed following an illness of many months duration.

Mr. Mayes, following the close of the war, was discharged from the service on account of disability and he came to Sierra Madre about two and one-half years ago and established his home. The many months which he had served his country during the war had completely undermined his health and it was hoped that his residence here would result in recovery.

Mr. Mayes was a native of Texas, being born in Stanford. He served a part of his army service at Fort Sam Houston. He is survived by his widow and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Mayes of Stanford, and three brothers, Garner, Cecil and Floyd, and three sisters, Lucille, Vivian and Gladys. Burial was made in Mountain View Cemetery.

FIRST DEGREE NEXT TUESDAY

Work in the Entered Apprentice degree will occupy the attention of Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408, F. & A.M., next Tuesday night, according to announcement of E. L. Yerxa, W.M. A cordial invitation is extended to all members of the fraternity to attend.

The Ancient Priscillas were entertained Tuesday by Mrs. R. H. MacKerras of 341 Palmetto drive, Pasadena, in honor of her mother, Mrs. Craig.

TRUTH ABOUT DRY LAWS IN CALIFORNIA

W. A. Miller of Los Angeles will speak on "A New Page in History" at the Congregational Church next Sunday evening. As a representative of the Anti-saloon League Mr. Miller is qualified to tell about the great fight now on in California to nullify the provisions of the Wright Law. Opportunity will be given for asking questions and the public is invited to attend and hear a live and interesting discussion on prohibition.

At the morning service Dr. Tate will preach on the subject "The Easy Life." All those who have no church home are cordially invited to spend Sunday here and find a welcome.

Assessor Now Working On 1924 Values

Mrs. Edna Wiggins resumed work as deputy county assessor this week. The position she held last year by special appointment she now holds by reason of passing the civil service examination with a very high rating. Her assignment to her home territory will be a source of satisfaction to her friends, as she was eligible for assignment anywhere in the county.

Assessment work will be taken up first in that portion of Sierra Madre lying north of Grand View Avenue. Mrs. Wiggins has already begun to make assessments. While she will devote most of the time to field work she will spend Wednesday of each week in the city hall from 1 to 5 o'clock. This will accommodate some people who are seldom at home during the day.

Time Savers

Taxpayers can save much time for themselves and for the assessor by two things, says Mrs. Wiggins. First they should have last year's tax bill handy for reference. Second, they should have a notation of the 1924 license number of their auto and the year in which it was made. Definite information is necessary. It will be of no use to tell the assessor "it's the same old boat we had for five years." She has no record of it and the information must be supplied on the property return.

To an assessor the joke about the "same old boat" is almost as welcome as to enumerate as your total live stock possessions "just the old maltese cat, ha ha!" She says after she has heard that with variations about fifteen times in one day she feels inclined to get "catty" herself.

TRIP TO RIVERSIDE

A rift in the rain clouds Monday was greatly appreciated by Mrs. Laura Cline, Mrs. H. C. Parker and Miss Fanny Montague Hunt. As auto guests of Mrs. Cline, the three, with Mr. and Mrs. W. Robert Paige of Terre Haute, Ind., who are spending the winter in Los Angeles, drove to Riverside for the day. The Paiges were week-end guests at 185 North Mountain Trail avenue and entertained their sister, Miss Hunt, and her friends at Mission Inn for luncheon. The day proved a perfect one, and upon the return of the party at six o'clock, had a perfect ending even missing the hard shower in Sierra Madre. The valley views never were better and residents were thankful for such a clear day to show off the country-side to tourists.

APOLOGY ACCEPTED

Four boys appeared before the school trustees Wednesday to express their contrition for throwing rocks on the roof of the club house at the school graduation exercises. The fact that their apparently thoughtless and foolish act nearly caused a tragedy seemed to have been fittingly impressed on them and the trustees accepted their apology rather than have them turned over to the juvenile court.

Wistaria Is In Bloom for Annual Fete

Every indication promises a great wealth of blossoms by next Thursday, March 13, when "open house" at the great Wistaria vine begins. Many automobiles filled with tourists are already making the circle at Scenic Point to see if the vine is in bloom. These facts indicate the usual interest in this floral attraction.

The advertising committee's program to have at least 1,000 of the attractive new Wistaria post cards in the mails this week, bearing personal invitations from Sierra Madre folks to their friends to visit the vine between March 13 and 28, is well under way. These post cards were on the street Wednesday noon and sold rapidly, 500 being purchased in the first three hours.

Mrs. Milton Steinberger, chairman of excursions, is sending out many letters. One hundred letters were sent to organizations by the committee. One thousand posters, a beautiful four-colored print of the vine, will be ready for distribution tomorrow. These may be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce, the Civic association, and at Mrs. Mesecar's office.

Sierra Madre people are urged to help place these posters in suitable places in near by towns, and to see that every automobile carries one.

The advertising committee includes Woman's club, Mrs. Mesecar, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Nuetzel, Mrs. Oswald and Mrs. C. L. Twycross; the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Richards; the Civic association, Mr. H. R. Allen, chairman, Mr. W. J. Lawless, Mr. H. A. Coit.

P. T. A. OFFICERS MEET AT OUTDOOR LUNCHEON

Members of the executive board of the Parent-Teacher Association, with a few mothers and friends, spent last Friday at the home of Mrs. C. L. Hoover. A delicious noonday luncheon was served under the oak trees which was greatly enjoyed and all present greatly appreciated the invitation of the hostess to meet there at any future time. The regular business meeting of the board was held in the afternoon, at which time plans were perfected for the serving of the dinner for the Civic Association next Monday night. All mothers who are willing to assist with this dinner either day or evening are requested to notify Mrs. F. L. C. Roess, president, Red 90.

McGREGOR PLAN FOR FARM AID

Among the prominent business men of the middle west called to Washington on legislation for relief of the wheat farmers was V. L. McGregor of Crookston, Minn. He is the author of what is known as "the MacGregor plan," part of which was incorporated in the McNary-Haugen bill for a government export corporation. Many Sierra Madre people are interested in this legislation by reason of interests which they still retain in the middle west. Local interest is added from the fact that Mr. McGregor is a cousin of Smith Loggins of this city.

ST. RITA'S CLUB ARE HOSTESSES

Guests to the number of a hundred or more gathered to enjoy the hospitality of the ladies of St. Rita's club in the parish auditorium Tuesday night. Dancing and cards occupied the evening and delicious refreshments were served. The splendid fellowship marking the event made it a delightful occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Gay have removed to Pasadena and are residing at 488 E. Washington St., for the present. They expect to return later to Sierra Madre and build a new home.

He is survived only by his devoted wife.

Funeral services were held Tuesday in Los Angeles and interment took place in the Odd Fellows cemetery in that city.

Regular sessions of the Community Sing will be resumed next Thursday night, according to announcement of the president, Mrs. Milton Steinberger. The Orpheus Club of male voices is one of the great singing organizations of the west, and Sierra Madre

SPLENDID GIFT TO POMONA IS MADE PUBLIC

Pomona College announces two important events which mark perhaps the greatest single forward movement in the history of the college. At a meeting just held of the members of the city council, chamber of commerce, and other prominent citizens, President Blaisdell announced that Miss Ellen Scripps of La Jolla, who has recently made several valuable gifts to the college, has secured the famous Indian Hill tract of land for the benefit and future development of the college.

This tract of land embraces about 280 acres, and was acquired by Miss Scripps at an expense of $250,000. With other smaller pieces of property which have been acquired for the benefit of the college by trustees and other friends, it gives a total frontage upon the north side of the Foothill boulevard from Indian Hill boulevard to Mills avenue of about a mile.

At the same time friends of the college have been acquiring for its future use various tracts of vacant land lying between Sixth street and the Foothill boulevard and College and Mills avenues. This will give the college eventually practically a half mile of frontage on the south side of the Foothill boulevard.

Future Plans
The acquisition of this additional land which gives the college a campus area of about 500 acres, does not mean that there will be any immediate building. It has been secured and is being held in order to provide for the future development of the institution along lines which have been in the mind of President Blaisdell for a long time.

It is hoped that a group of small colleges similar to Pomona will eventually be erected which will center about a great graduate university, somewhat upon the order perhaps of Oxford University in England or Princeton University in New Jersey. It is believed that the acquisition of this land, giving ample space for the development of one of the greatest universities of the country, will appeal to men and women of means who are interested in higher education, and that material contributions will be made in the near future towards the realization of this great program.

Endowment Funds
It has already been announced that Pomona college is contemplating a financial campaign in order to increase its permanent endowment. Word has just been received by President Blaisdell, and announcement to that effect was made today, that the General Education Board of New York has voted to give Pomona College $400,000 on condition that the college secure an additional $800,000.

This is the third time that the General Education Board has given large amounts to Pomona College, and it is believed that this is the largest single gift made by the Board to any institution west of the Rocky mountains. The gifts of the board are always conditioned upon a larger amount being secured from the interested friends of the institution. They have given this large amount in recognition of the great opportunities of Pomona College, and of the fact that the financial pressure since the war has made it impossible for the college to receive more than a very small proportion of the students clamoring at its gates for admission.

Nearly 1,100 new applications for admission to Pomona College were filed the past year, of which it was possible to accept but 275. It is not the purpose of the college to become a great institution with students running into the thousands, but rather, as stated above, to develop the plan of separate colleges, each with a small enough registration to maintain the value of personal contacts between the faculty and the student body.

Farmers Should Have More Books Bulletin Claims

"Not one farmer in ten has as many books on agriculture as he should have," says a bulletin from the Utah Agricultural college. The bulletin continues:

Farmers in many cases fail to realize that by spending a dollar or two for a book which contains valuable information they might save themselves hundreds of dollars.

They should form a stronger habit of consulting books that will help them in their work. Many farmers have a prejudice against what they call book farming, but by having these prejudices they are simply standing in their own light. Books on agriculture are a condensed record of farming experience. From a book a person can often get more facts in an hour than he could get in weeks visiting with his neighbors.

It is rapidly being found that the man who has not learned how to use books cannot compete with the man who has at his fingers' ends the best things that have been published on farming and who knows how to get at these facts when he needs them. Farmers should spend a few dollars each year enlarging their agricultural library so that they may keep themselves posted on the best the world knows regarding their business.

Alfalfa Suffers Insect Attack

An unusual seasonal outbreak of the aphids, in which it has attacked alfalfa, is reported general in the alfalfa growing districts of the county, according to the Agricultural Extension service. Attacks on alfalfa are exceedingly rare, and to many growers it is a new experience.

The outbreak is seasonal only and, because of its rarity, control measures are not specifically known. It is an insect that appears and disappears quickly.

It is believed that the first cutting only will be affected. It is recommended that this first cutting be cut short, raked up, cured and then burned, and a heavy flooding be given.

The only method known for direct killing of the insects is the application of nicotine sulfate in some form. Where dusting is used, dust containing 10 per cent of this compound is effective.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

MRS. E. H. CARPENTER
Press Chairman

Wednesday, March 12th, is the day of the next regular club meeting. No luncheon will be served, but Mrs. Lawless asks that the members bring a sandwich or two and come to the club house in the morning prepared to work. The Wistaria fete is to open on Thursday and there will be many things to do.

Mrs. Milton Steinberger will serve "high tea" immediately following the adjournment of this meeting—a high tea which is to be a very fine birthday party. Every member is requested to bring a penny for each of her years. These amounts will be received in strictest confidence but we are told that Mrs. Steinberger hopes to find among our members many who have already reached the century mark!

The fund, be it remembered, is to meet our Biennial apportionment and members are asked to telephone either one of the following, signifying their intention of being present and giving the month of their birth: Mrs. W. E. Morgan, Green 31; Mrs. W. R. Lees, Green 48; Mrs. Frank Barbour, Blue 16; Miss Ruth Klemme, Blue 20, or Mrs. Ashley Smith, Blue 201. Please call between the hours of 9 and 12 any day up to and including Tuesday.

The Fete

A charming postal card is being distributed by the Woman's club and it has met with much favor. These postals were put on sale before the time of the fete in order that the people of the town could use them to notify their friends when the vine is to bloom. They are selling rapidly and should prove a wonderful advertising medium for Sierra Madre and its coming festival.

The monthly bulletin is in the hands of the club members and sets forth the departments to be handled at the fete and the chairman of each. Mrs. Frank Hart is bringing each Saturday a group of girls from the Marlborough school in Los Angeles to assist her at her punch table.

Section Notes

The Drama department met at the club house Monday afternoon, March 3rd. Mrs. Snell reviewed "The Lady of Belmont" in a capable and interesting manner. The story, which is written around the character portrayed in the Merchant of Venice, showing them at a period ten years later and being a defense of the Jew, proved itself of so much interest that a lengthy discussion was held and readings of "Arms and the Man" was held over until the next meeting of the department, Monday, March 17.

The enrollment of the Parliamentary Law section, which now embodies Civil Government and Current Events sections, is very gratifying. The second meeting of the new class was held at Mrs. Osgood's home Tuesday afternoon.

Following Mrs. Osgood's work, Mrs. Jameson spoke of the Constitution of the United States and its amendments, touching on the matter of population and representatives and the following books were suggested for reading: The World's Almanac of 1924 and the Constitution of the State of California and summary of its amendments.

Mrs. Creese chose as subject for discussion the History of Financing the Educational System, and as matters of timely interest brief talks were given on the attitude of certain Los Angeles editors toward the Colorado river scheme, of the present expose of public land frauds and of the situation regarding oil and Mexican lands.

The next meeting of this section will be on Tuesday, March 18, at 2 o'clock.

Coming Conventions

Club women of Southern California are finding this a very interesting year. There are to be held in the near future three big club conventions in the immediate neighborhood of Los Angeles. The first, the District convention, will be held in Glendale April 8, 9, 10; the second, the State convention, to be in Pasadena May 30 and 31, and finally the Biennial in Los Angeles in June. At the Biennial many of the foreign countries will be represented and the days of this convention will be over filled with the very interesting reports of women from all corners of the globe.

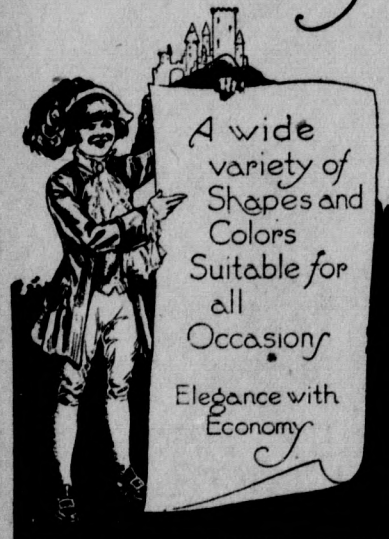

Sierra Madre has her part to play in the Glendale convention. The Elizabethan Revel is to be repeated there, it having met with favor in the eyes of the Dramatic Chairman of the district. Our President, Mrs. Lawless, has been appointed custodian at the Biennial and the press chairman of the Sierra Madre club is serving in the same department. It is hoped that many members of this club may hear the reports given at the district convention. In Sierra Madre the regular program of April 9 is to be omitted—at the suggestion of the State president—that all who wish may go to Glendale for the sessions there.

Mrs. Lawless, Mrs. Glenwood Jones, Mrs. George Lehner, Mrs. Fennel and Mrs. Carpenter represented the Sierra Madre Woman's club at the last Presidents' council of the current year, which was held in Highland Park on February 29.

Job was sure a patient man but he had no comic supplements to bother him.

What Junior College Plan Would Mean

Pasadena High School district, which includes South Santa Anita and Sierra Madre elementary school districts, will vote March 28th on the question of establishing a junior college. In order that the voters of this vicinity may be fully informed on the issue, this paper is presenting a series of articles by Principal William F. Ewing of Pasadena high school, telling the story of the junior high school system. The second article follows:

During the past five years, the junior college movement in California has received the hearty approval of and encouragement from such educators as Dean Lange and former President Barrows of the University of California, and Dean Cubberley, Professor Proctor and President Wilbur of Stanford.

No one can prophesy what the future development of the junior college will be. The opinions of men who have studied the problem carefully would seem to indicate a tremendous growth in the next decade. In a recent article Dr. L. V. Koos reports about 200 junior colleges, with an enrollment of 20,000 students.

Former President Jones of the University of Missouri writes: "The movement as carried out in this state is a unique and interesting experiment in education which has yielded most satisfactory results, and promises to give more important results in the future."

Logical Division

In an interview last summer with Dean Cubberley, the writer had the pleasure of discussing the junior college movement and its probable future at considerable length. Dean Cubberley expressed a firm belief in the educational soundness of the junior college idea. He prophesied that our whole system of public education would soon be reorganized. He advocated dividing the schools into three groups, viz: elementary six grades; four grades of high school, (grades 7, 8, 9, 10) and four years of college (years 11, 12, 13, 14).

Professor Proctor holds the same view as Dean Cubberley. He writes: "There are certain practical implications in the proposal to cover an eight-year secondary span with two institutions, each offering a four-year program of studies. The present four-year high school would eventually disappear. In communities able to support four-year junior colleges, the combination would be six years of elementary schooling, four of intermediate, and four of junior college. In small town and rural communities a sufficient number of districts would be consolidated to have schools on the 6-4 or the 6-6 plan, sending their students beyond these limits to the larger communities for advanced training of all kinds. The large high school buildings, already erected and superior in equipment to all but the best four-year colleges, would adequately house the four-year junior colleges."

Now to discuss the purposes of the junior college.

Place of Junior College

In an excellent article published in School and Society, Dean Lange shows that the present secondary school system is not properly ministering to the whole of adolescence. He writes:

"When every normal pupil shall be able to find in the seventh grade, the nurture suited to his years and thenceforth shall have at least the chance to grow in the same way, year by year, through middle and late adolescence, then the new universal criticism of the high school that it begins too late and ends too early, will be an anachronism."

"The junior college has come to fulfill the high school in every part of the state for all qualified students. And such a consummation will mean special as well as regular students. It will mean extension classes. It will imply such a union of community experience and college activities that there will be life without and within, a more abundant life, in a higher plane. It will imply cooperation with the university but not preparation for it."

About two years ago Dr. Koos of the University of Minnesota reported a study on the purposes of the junior college. He collected the material for his study from three sources: 1. Current literature. 2. Catalogues. 3. Bulletins of junior colleges (mostly 1920-21). In all 56 institutions were represented, 23 public and 33 private.

For convenience in classifying purposes, Dr. Koos divided them into five groups. In each group, the purposes are enumerated in the order of greatest importance as indicated by most of the public institutions.

Group I. Affecting education in the two years under consideration.

1. Popularizing higher education.
2. Continuing home influences during immaturity.
3. Offering two years of college work acceptable to colleges and universities.

4. Providing occupational training of junior college grade.

5. Completing education of students not going on.

6. Affording attention to the individual student.

7. Providing religious and moral training.

8. Offering better instruction in these school years.

Group II. Affecting the organization of the school system.

1. Placing in the secondary school all work appropriate to it.

2. Fostering the evolution of the system of education.

3. Making the secondary school period coincide with adolescence.

4. Assigning a function to the small college.

5. Avoiding time and expense by avoiding duplication.

Group III. Affecting the university.

1. Making possible real university functioning.

2. Relieving the university.

3. Assuring better preparation for university work.

Group IV. Affecting instruction in the high school.

1. Improving high school instruction.

2. Relieving the university.

Group V. Affecting the community of location.

1. Offering work meeting local needs.

2. Affecting the culture tone of the community.

Prof. McDowell writes: "Public high schools in a number of cities have been led to extend their courses to include the first two years of the college course."

(a) There is a widespread demand upon the part of an intelligent public to have the opportunities for securing a higher education brought within reach of all.

(b) There is need of certain vocational and completing courses for the large numbers of students who cannot or should not go to the university.

(c) Specific local needs in certain cities have resulted in the establishment of junior colleges.

(d) The tendency to raise the entrance requirements of professional schools to include the first two years of college work.

(e) The geographical remoteness of some cities from standard colleges and universities.

(f) The fact that a local college is a financial saving to a community.

Forest Service Says N. P. Railway Has Been Compensated

Contention that the Northern Pacific Railway company has received a total of $136,118,533 from the sale of lands from the government grants or nearly twice the $70,000,000 cost of constructing the railroad, is set up by the forest service as a chief reason why congress should deny the railway company the right to take over an additional 3,000,000 acres of public lands which it now claims under the original grants.

A resolution directing the secretary of the interior to withhold his approval of the adjustment of the Northern Pacific land grants and the issuance of any further patents on them until a congressional inquiry can be made has been introduced in the house.

Asserting that the railway company is seeking acreage in the national forests of Montana, Idaho and Washington, probably worth $30,000,000, the forest service contends that the Northern Pacific land grants have been fully satisfied. Moreover, it says an accounting from the railroad which the Congress has a right to demand, may justify the cancellation of the patents to all granted lands.

Ever see a squirrel running around in his cage? He's moving so fast you can hardly see him—but he never gets anywhere. All he gets is exercise.

And isn't home washing just as useless? Why not let our "Rough Dry" service end your washday for good? It washes everything, irons the flatwork, and the price is moderate indeed.

Reference is hereby made to said map for a further, full and complete description

MAD LOVE

The merest glance at any history of the world in thirty or forty volumes indicates that vamping was invented long before motion pictures. Some persons contend that Lilith, who antedated Eve, according to some sources, was the first siren, but she must have been sadly handicapped in her art because of the scarcity of men to work with, Adam, the first man, having been the only one to make his debut in her time.

But with Helen of Troy, whose blue eyes, golden hair, red lips, pearly teeth and perfect thirty-six, had the world dizzy about 3,000 years ago, it was vastly different.

Helen got along pretty well with Menelaus, but when Paris, son of Prima, king of Troy, took the third corner of the triangle the lighted cigaret stub was in the gasoline. After Paris had taken her on a non-stop flight to Troy Menelaus could hardly be blamed for gathering Ajax, Nestor, Achilles and other leading citizens of Greece into a posse and waging the famous Trojan war for the next ten years. It might have been going on yet if Menelaus and his friends hadn't thought of building a wooden horse and making a present of it to the Trojans—without telling them that the horse was full of Greek fighters.

That was one mad love, anyhow, that almost wrecked the then known world.

The vampire has certainly made her place in the world. Pola Negri, it appears, is the latest one to try it on the screen, and she's doing it so well in her picture, "Mad Love," it is said, that none of the fair real ones could give her many, if indeed any, pointers. It will be at The Wistaria Theater next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

of said assessment district. The said map on file shall govern for all details as to the extent of the said assessment district.

Section 4. The said Board of Trustees also determines and declares that serial bonds bearing interest at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum shall be issued to represent each assessment of Twenty-Five (25) Dollars or more remaining unpaid for twenty days after the date of the warrant. Said serial bonds shall extend over a period ending nine (9) years from the second day of January next succeeding the fifteenth (15) day of the next November following their date. Payments on the principal of unpaid assessments and interest shall be made by property owners to the City Treasurer and the same shall be disbursed by him, all as provided in the said "Improvement Act of 1911."

Section 5. Notice is hereby given that on Thursday the 13th day of March, 1924, at the hour of 7:30 o'clock P. M. of said day, in the Council Chambers of the Board of Trustees of said City of Sierra Madre in the City Hall of said City, located in Room F, Kersting Court in said City, any and all persons having any objections to said proposed work or improvement or to the extent of the District to be assessed, or both, may appear before said Board of Trustees, and show cause why said proposed improvement should not be carried out in accordance with this resolution.

Section 6. All the proceedings for the aforesaid improvement and for the issuance of said bonds shall be had and taken under and in accordance with an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, known and designated as the "Improvement Act of 1911," approved April 7, 1911, and under all Acts supplementary thereto or amendatory thereof.

Section 7. The Superintendent of Streets shall immediately post or cause to be posted conspicuously along the line of said contemplated work or improvement and along all of the open streets within the district liable to be assessed, notices of the passage of this Resolution in the manner and in the form required by law.

Section 8. The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of this Resolution and shall cause the same to be published twice in the Sierra Madre News, a weekly newspaper published and circulated in said City of Sierra Madre and hereby designated for that purpose.

Adopted and approved this 14th day of February, 1924.

President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Sierra Madre.

GARAGE PUTS RADIO STOCK ON DISPLAY

One of the features of the handsomely decorated new show room of the Sierra Madre Garage is a display case with a brand new stock of radio apparatus. Complete sets, as well as parts and supplies are shown from such well known manufacturers as Atwater-Kent, Crossley, Eisemann and others.

"The name Atwater-Kent has been familiar for years in connection with automotive electrical equipment, and so has Eisemann," said Mr. Steinberger. "So it seemed perfectly natural for us to stock their radio apparatus. We will be especially glad to bring this apparatus to the home of anyone interested and show them what results they can get under conditions where the purchaser will use it. That is the best possible test."

IRISH GREET NEIGHBORS IN SIERRA MADRE

If any one were to venture the remark that it is not so very far from Sierra Madre along the "Road to Dublin," he would elicit a laugh, if not downright derision. To be sure since the Great War and the increasing development of geographical movies east and west are near neighbors despite Mr. Kipling.

Little incidents happen every day which are proof that romance is not dead, and that oftener than not real co-incidences are stranger than fiction.

Right in this wee city a gentleman from Montana came for a winter rest. Stopping at the Tavern at the foot of North Mountain Trail avenue, which is his street. Mr. Thomas Ray, of genial disposition, and a retired grocer, passed the time of day with the Tavern's new hostess, Mrs. Marion Forrester, beginning with the usual query as to what part of the world the latter came from.

"Tubergill Burnside, Ireland," would seem far away from Sierra Madre town, but not so to Mr. Ray, who is Irish, too. At that juncture, Mr. Lachlan Arthur, father of Mrs. Forrester, appeared upon the scene and the swapping experiences began. It soon developed that Mr. Ray, who was from the same countryside in Ireland, had known in his boyhood the late Reverend James Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Lachlan Arthur's son. Although the parents here had never met Mr. Ray in his youth they knew his people and the affairs which have come up of mutual interest bid fair to make conversation with them an endless chain. It seems that, before his death, Mr. James Arthur was a minister in the Presbyterian church of Tubergill, while Mr. Arthur, senior, is a retired linen merchant from Belfast.

To add an additional note of humor to the chat, the very collar around Mr. Ray's throat came from Ballymena, Mrs. Forrester's home. Hurrah for the Irish and the "wearing of the green."

CHILDREN AT O. E. S. AFFAIR

The ladies of the Eastern Star held their regular "Get Together" party at the chapter hall Wednesday afternoon, the hostesses being Mrs. Dickinson and Miss Saenger. The feature was the presence of the younger children to the number of a score, who added much to the pleasure of the event.

George M. Cushman, well known auto salesman, has allied himself with J. V. Warden of Monrovia, Chevrolet dealer, taking the position of sales manager. He and his wife have taken a house in Sierra Madre Canyon and will reside here.

Use for Old Collars.
Save all the men's old white linen collars, wash out the starch, iron flat, fold two ends together, with the worn side on the inside, and stitch all the way around. These make excellent holders, and they can be hung up by the buttonholes already in them and are easily laundered.
